Mosaic tile care and maintenance

Mosaics are easy to look after. Regular gentle cleaning keeps the tiles and grout looking their best, and a little sealing goes a long way in wet and busy areas.

Everyday	Warm water and mild detergent
Tools	Soft cloth, mop or gentle brush
Avoid	Abrasive pads and scourers
Grout	Seal once a year in wet areas
Unglazed	Seal in high-traffic areas

GENERAL CLEANING

For routine cleaning, use warm water and a mild household detergent. Clean with a soft cloth, mop or other non-abrasive material so the tile surface isn't scratched or damaged.

NATURAL CLEANING METHOD

If you'd rather use natural products, you'll need baking soda, vinegar, a microfibre cloth and a gentle scrubbing brush.

1. Mix baking soda with a little water to make a paste.
2. Work it over marks and grout lines with the brush.
3. Wipe over with a vinegar and water solution and a microfibre cloth.

Vinegar is only suitable for light dirt and surface marks.

USING A TILE-SAFE CLEANER

1. Apply the cleaner and leave it on the surface for a few minutes.
2. Scrub gently with a soft brush, paying attention to grout lines and any marked areas.
3. Rinse thoroughly with clean water.
4. Dry with a towel or mop.

SEALING

We recommend sealing grout lines once a year, especially in wet areas such as showers and floors. It adds protection and helps the grout and tiles keep their look for longer.

For unglazed mosaics in high-traffic or commercial areas, we also recommend sealing the tiles themselves. The sealer acts as an extra barrier against surface damage and marking.

> Recommended sealer: Aqua Seal Gold Premium Sealer for Stone, Tile and Grout, or a similar penetrating sealer. Always follow the manufacturer's instructions and test on a spare tile or out-of-sight area first.
